ous terms of leadership on various church boards and committees, and extended service as a trustee of Allendale Columbia School, Rochester's premiere college preparatory independent school, where he now serves as Board Chair.

Biography:

A native of Rochester, New York (Fairport High School, '71; Eastman School of Music Preparatory Department, violoncello, '71), Kevin refused to succumb to "Potomac Fever" during his law school years in Washington, D.C., and instead returned to Rochester to establish a litigation practice in his home town.

At MCCM, Kevin has not only maintained his own practice, but has had the privilege of mentoring many young lawyers, and takes pride in the accomplishments of former colleagues who are now respected members of the state and federal judiciary, federal prosecutors, or attorneys serving clients in corporate legal departments and private practice throughout the region. Kevin also served as the firm's managing partner from 1999 through 2006, helping guide the firm's transition to full use of technology for case and document management in its practice, designing systems and software tailored to the firm's particular needs and style of working.

Kevin and his wife, Suzanne, reside in Fairport, New York. They particularly appreciate the beauty of the Finger Lakes region during their summer and fall weekends on Honeoye Lake, and enjoy spending time attending the concerts and recitals of Kevin's two sons, whose extraordinary musical talent and achievements continue to amaze.
